An introduction about me

Some of my interests are music, science, dance. I love reading especially fantasy books. I strive to be aware of the world around and things that are going on such as gender equality, gay rights, anti-racism etc. One of my biggest personality traits is try to be empathic towards people of many different backgrounds, sexualities, and cultures. I'm a big advocate for equality for all people of different backgrounds cultures & sexualities etc. I love helping and contributing to lessons and being active in my learning as well as taking responsibility for research.

What are your top 3 issues that you and/or your peers feel passionate about to work on in RSV and NSV?

Candidate written speech

I believe that I should be my academies representative because I'm a big advocate for being inclusive to all people from different backgrounds cultures, sexualities etc. While I'm in this role, one of the main things I want to achieve is having a safe environment for students so they can come to school and be excited to learn.

I know many people who are part of the LGBTQ+ community and they feel that there's not many outlets for them to go to if they feel they need to talk to someone about how they feel or try and figure out their feelings. What I would change is having people who are part of the community or maybe people who are allies, be representatives or therapists where people can go and talk to. By having students who another student can talk to, will be more comfortable for the student themselves to talk to someone who knows what they're going through, understand what they're feeling, making it easier for them to communicate more effectively and healthily.

Another thing that I have noticed is that the student body is not as active as it should be. How I would change this, is by making students more responsible for things like funding for clubs, new facilities, new equipment and this would teach students about taking responsibility, handling money and how the real world works once they come out of secondary school or into college. People should vote for me as I am an active student who many people know. I am also someone who cares for the people around as well as being caring and kind to others.

These are just some of the things I would like to change about my school to make it a safe and fun learning environment.
